

JANE DEUBER

Business Strategist, Bestselling Author, and Direct Selling Specialist

Jane Deuber is a best-selling author, international speaker and sought after business consultant to top performing direct selling leaders around the world. As the Founder of her consulting firm, Profit Partners, and through her role as Co-Founder of the Direct Selling Women's Alliance, Jane has helped thousands of women turn their passions into profits as they build their home-based business and live the life they love.

Jane's direct selling career began in 1997 when, after receiving her Masters degree in International Business Administration, she and her husband Mario founded a party plan company around their kitchen table with their entire savings of only $5000. Since then she not only took that company to the multi-million mark, she also founded and grew two additional companies to the million mark and beyond. After selling her first company, Jane served as a Consultant to direct selling companies prior to founding the Direct Selling Women's Alliance.

Jane's 20 years in direct selling has taken her from being a first time distributor to company executive and now a respected industry consultant. She was the lead writer for two best-selling books entitled Build It Big and More Build it Big, which hit #1 on Amazon and Barnes & Noble and have since been translated into six languages.

Jane brings her unique perspective to all her work within the direct selling profession and has built a reputation for combining time-tested business-building strategies with a keen understanding of today's how successful businesses are being built in the 21st Century. And while her Masters in International Business Administration comes in handy, it's her real life experience "in the trenches" of starting and growing her own direct selling business that makes her a powerful and sought after trainer.

Jane was named the 1994 "Woman of the Year" by the Professional Women's Network, she is the "1999 Women of Distinction in Network Marketing", and voted one of "The 50 Most Powerful People in Direct Selling" in 2008.

Today, Jane resides in Pebble Beach, Ca where she is living her dream of supporting other entrepreneurs to be happy and successful while she herself enjoys her role of mom to 12 year-old Alex, Grandma to Ayli and Brenner, and partner to her husband Mario.
